Statewide criminal background checks are required for the following individuals:

- Respite care providers
- All DCYF employees, interns and volunteers (other than Training School, who require fingerprinting)

Statewide criminal background checks may be required for the following individuals:

- Subjects of reports of child abuse and/or neglect to the Call Floor
- Individuals referred to the Department for services and all adult household members
- Persons who have contact with children receiving DCYF services

An individual subject to a criminal records check may also be required to undergo an employment background check (refer to DCYF Policy 900.0035, Employment Background Checks Facility Operators/Facility Employees; DCYF Policy: 200.0065, Employment Background Checks - Training School) and/or a clearance for substantiated allegations of child abuse and neglect (refer to DCYF Policy 700.0105, Clearance of Agency Activity).

The following Federal and State statutes apply:

- The National Child Protection Act of 1993 [42 U.S.C. 5119] (a) authorizes nationwide criminal records checks to determine if a child care provider has been convicted of a crime that bears upon the provider's fitness to have responsibility for the safety and well-being of children.

- The Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act (CAPTA) requires criminal background checks for all prospective foster and adoptive parents and other adults living in the household regardless of the funding source for the child's placement.
- The Adam Walsh Child Protection and Safety Act of 2006 (Public Law 109-248) requires a nationwide fingerprint-based check of the national crime information databases (NCID) for prospective foster and adoptive parents. The results must be received before the foster or adoptive caretaker may be finally approved for placement of a child regardless of whether foster care maintenance payments or adoption assistance payments are to be made on behalf of the child. This Act also allows DCYF Child Protective Services administrative staff who meet security and training standards established by the U.S. Attorney General to access these databases electronically only in investigating or responding to reports of child abuse, neglect or exploitation.
- The Fostering Connections to Success and Increasing Adoptions Act of 2008, Public Law (P.L.) 110-351, requires the Department to complete criminal records checks, including fingerprint-based checks of national crime information databases on any relative guardian before the relative guardian may receive Title IV-E kinship guardianship assistance payments on behalf of the child.
- Federal Law [42 U.S.C. 671] (a) (20) and Regulation [45 CFR 1356.30] relating to the Adoption and Safe Families Act (ASFA) require that the Department cannot approve or license an adoptive home or a foster home if the prospective foster or adoptive parent has been convicted of a felony involving child abuse or neglect, spousal abuse, a crime against a child or children (including child pornography) or a crime involving violence, including rape, sexual assault or homicide. Further, the Department cannot approve or license an adoptive parent or a foster parent who has, within the last five years, been convicted of a felony involving physical assault, battery or a drug-related offense.
- Rhode Island General Law (RIGL) 14-1-34 requires prospective foster parent to undergo a statewide and nationwide criminal records check. The nationwide criminal records check will be provided to the foster care applicant without charge.
- RIGL 15-7-11 requires prospective adoptive parent to undergo a statewide and nationwide criminal records check. The results are included in the adoption home study report submitted to the Family Court. The Department or the private child placing agency conducting the home study is responsible for all costs relating to the criminal checks.
- RIGL 40-13.2-4 requires that any person seeking to operate a facility which is required to be licensed or registered with the Department shall undergo a nationwide criminal records check.
- RIGL 40-13.2-5 requires that any person seeking employment in any facility which is required to be licensed or registered with the Department or seeking employment at the RI Training School if that employment involves supervisory or disciplinary power over a child or children or involves routine contact with a child or children without the presence of other employees shall undergo a nationwide criminal records check. The nationwide criminal records check will be provided to the applicant for employment without charge.

The Department has established, in compliance with RIGL 40-13.2, a listing of criminal activity (refer to the attached Criminal Records Checks Addendum, Disqualifying Information) which constitutes disqualifying information because that information would indicate that the employment could endanger the health or welfare of a child or children. The arrest and conviction or arrest pending disposition for one of the criminal offenses included in the Criminal Records Checks Addendum disqualifies an applicant from operating or seeking employment in a child care facility, receiving a license or certification to provide care for a child, receiving approval as an adoptive parent, seeking employment at the RI Training School or serving in any other role subject to a criminal background check in accordance with federal and/or state law or DCYF policy. For purposes of this protocol, "conviction" means a judgment of conviction entered by a court subsequent to a finding of guilty. Further, any case where a defendant has entered a plea of nolo contendere and has received a sentence that includes a fine and/or a period of incarceration shall constitute a conviction. In addition, any instance where the defendant has entered a plea of nolo contendere and has received a sentence of only probation shall constitute a conviction while the probationary period is pending. This Addendum is also utilized to carry out the provisions of RIGL 40-13.2-4.1 and 40-13.2-5.1 relating to statewide criminal records checks for youth serving agency operators and employees.

An individual subject to a nationwide criminal records check may apply to the bureau of criminal identification of the state police or the local police department. The check will conform to applicable federal standards including the taking of fingerprints to identify the applicant. If disqualifying information is found, the applicant and, in the case of foster and adoptive parents and facility operators, the Department will be informed in writing of the nature of the disqualifying information. The employer will be informed whether or not disqualifying information exists. If no disqualifying information is found, the applicant and the employer and/or the Department will be informed in writing of this fact.

An individual subject to a statewide criminal background check authorizes the Department and/or the employer to process and obtain the results of the statewide BCI check.

RIGL 40-13.2-6 provides that if an applicant for employment has undergone a criminal records check within eighteen (18) months of an application for employment, an employer may request from the bureau of criminal identification of the state police or the local police department, or the Attorney General's Office for employees of youth serving agencies, a letter indicating if any disqualifying information was discovered. The state or local police bureau of criminal identification or the Attorney General's Office will respond by stating if an item of disqualifying information was discovered without disclosing the nature of the disqualifying information or by stating that no disqualifying information was discovered. The letter may be maintained on file to satisfy the fingerprinting requirements for employment. RIGL 15-7-11 provides that a prospective adoptive parent may not be required to submit to a nationwide criminal records check if he or she has submitted to this check, provided that, in accordance with DCYF policy, the fingerprinting was completed within the previous eighteen (18) months of an application.

An individual who has disqualifying information (refer to the attached Criminal Records Checks Addendum, Disqualifying Information) is entitled to appeal that disqualification in accordance with the Administrative Procedures Act (RIGL 42-35-9 and 42-35-15) and subject to the procedures promulgated within this rule.
